Speaks Vows In St. John's Church

Arrangements of white peonies, gladioli and regal lilies, flanked by branched candelabra, decorated the altar of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church Sunday afternoon when the double-ring ceremony uniting Jean Marie Stein and Robert Eugene Kelly was performed by Rev. E. J. Soell, pastor. It was the thirty-second wedding anniversary of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Watson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Charles Stein, Kearney street, and the late Mrs. Stein, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Kelly, Grand Rapids.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy ivory satin fashioned with a basque waist and full skirt. The sweetheart neckline was outlined with self-ruching and clusters of seed pearls and long fitted sleeves ended in points over the wrists. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion net fell from a half halo of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and white roses. Her only jewelry was a pearl encrusted lavalier, given to her by her aunt who had worn it at her own wedding.

Preceding the bride to the altar were matron of honor, Mrs. Ray Morehead, and two bridesmaids, Jeanne Hooshagen, of Hartford, Conn., and Loreen Snyder, Elkton. Mrs. Moorehead's gown of blue nylon net over taffeta was made with a fitted waist. Flowered bands of white net lace circled the full skirt and outlined the cap sleeves and sweetheart neckline. She wore a half halo of small flowers with a veil. The bridesmaids' gowns were identical, with Miss Hooshagen in yellow and Miss Snyder in orchid. All three carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

Richard Prakken, Lansing, was best man. Ushers were Ray Morehead, Charles McCabe, Earl Scheriffius and Charles Watson, Dearborn.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Kelly wore a floor length gown of beige crepe and a starched lace hat with gold accessories. She had a corsage of sweetheart roses.

A reception and buffet for one hundred guests was held in Watson House immediately after the ceremony. Roses, delphinium and carnations decorated the rooms. Presiding at the tea and coffee services were Mrs. Herman Stein, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Paul Kneskern, Grand Rapids. Serving the guests were Carol Stein, Mrs. Charles McCabe and Mrs. Jane Viggers-Walker, Pontiac. They wore gardenia corsages.

A four-tier cake surrounded by gardenias centered the bride's table.

When the couple left for a week's trip in northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Kelly was wearing a blue faille dress with pink accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of pink sweetheart roses. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

When they return they will live at 1005 St. Clair street.
